COPPERBELLY WATER SNAKE

REASON FOR VULNERABLE

These snakes have declined mainly because of the drainage, pollution, loss and filling over of their lowland swamp habitat and clearing of adjacent upland woods where they spend the winter (hibernation sites).

CAROLINA PARAKEET

REASON FOR EXTINCTION

The evidence is indicative that humans had at least a contributory role in the extinction of the Carolina parakeet, through a variety of means. Chief was deforestation in the 18th and 19th centuries. Hunting played a significant role, both for decorative use of their colorful feathers, for example, adornment of women's hats, and for reduction of crop predation.

HAWKSBILL SEA TURTLE

REASON FOR CRITICALLY ENDANGERED

The beautiful and colorful pattern on the carapace is a precious gem, which can be used as the raw material of jewelry, sculpture and other jewelry.. As the craft has a history of thousands of years in China, the level of craft has reached its peak in the Tang Dynasty, and the Japanese puppet craft has also been greatly influenced by China. It is precisely because of the excessive human demand for plutonium that the amount of plutonium in the world continues to decrease and there is danger of extinction.
